

Trek & Journey Games & Bible Quizzing

The Trek & Journey Weekend offers many benefits. The youth develop a stronger identity and closer bonds amongst members. Youth are also motivated to attend their meetings and complete sections to qualify for their team, learning God's Word in the process. Area churches and leaders are able to connect with each other in an atmosphere of fellowship. In addition, leaders are able to interact one on one with the youth's parents.

Most importantly, the gospel is presented at each Trek & Journey Weekend event, allowing unsaved family members and friends in attendance a chance to hear, some for the first time, and respond to the plan of salvation. Many unsaved people who are reluctant to visit a church service are often enthusiastic about attending a sporting event, especially if their children are involved. Make the most of this special opportunity to build relationships with youth and their families.

Trek & Journey Bible Quiz and Awana Games are an excellent way to foster teamwork and group unity among your Trek and Journey students. These events are held over a weekend, with Bible Quiz on Saturday morning, and Awana Games on Saturday afternoon.

As with Bible Quizzing for T&T, Trek and Journey Bible Quizzing challenges clubbers in Scripture memorization, application of God's Word, and review. Trek and Journey Bible Quizzing also challenges the students to apply to their lives what they have learned in their manuals. The goal of Trek and Journey Bible Quizzing is to encourage the students to deepen their relationship with God, thus open ended or application questions are often asked. The Bible Quizzing is based upon teams, not individuals, as the competition will consist of team speed, and team multiple-choice quizzing.

Trek & Journey Awana Games is a chance for your team of Trek or Journey students to compete in a playoff event atmosphere. Your team of 10-14 Trek or Journey students will compete in a preliminary round of 10 events. Semi-finals and Finals will be held to determine the champion Trek and Journey teams for the year. Trek & Journey Awana Games are a great motivator for students to work in their manuals in order to be eligible to compete. The Trek & Journey Awana Games also allow you an opportunity to teach sportsmanship and teamwork.
